二、阅读理解(本题共 10 个小题,每小题 2 分,共 20 分。在每小题列出的四个选项中,只有一项符合题目要求,请将符合题目要求的选项字母代号选出,填涂在答题卡上)

A

A long time ago, there lived a very old man. He was so old that he could not see or hear very well. He also could not walk very well, or eat very well for his hand shook. The old man's son and daughter-in-law thought he might make trouble at table. So, they had him eat his meals in the corner of the kitchen without a table.

They gave him very little to eat. The old man would have a sad look on his face as he looked at his son and daughter-in-law's dinner table. One day the old man's hand shook so terribly that he dropped his dish on the floor. The daughter-in-law became angry and shouted at the old man. And after that, his meals were served in a broken dish.

Not long afterwards, the family was sitting having their dinner while the four-year-old grandson was sitting on the floor carefully checking pieces of wood. The father asked, “What are you doing?” “I am making a small bowl.” “Why are you making it?” The son answered. “So that I can fill it with your and mother’s food when I grow up.”

The old man's son and daughter-in-law looked at one another, and without saying a word, started crying. The two quickly brought their old father to their dinner table. From that day on, the old man sat with the family when they had their meals. Even when the old man's food fell here and there, the son and the daughter-in-law did not say anything.

- 31 . The son and his wife made their father eat in the kitchen to _____.
- A . teach their son a good lesson
- B . stay away from trouble
- C . punish him for his shaking hand
- D . give him peace and comfort
- 32 . The old man dropped his dish _____.
- A . out of carelessness
- B . to ask for a new one
- C . against his own will
- D . to draw his son's attention
- 33 . By making that small bowl, the grandson wanted to _____.
- A . follow his parents' example
- B . eat the way his grandfather did
- C . enjoy making things with his own hands
- D . show his parents how clever he was
- 34 . The end of the story suggests the old man would _____.
- A . no longer drop his dishes
- B . continue to eat in the kitchen
- C . stop shaking his hands while eating
- D . live a comfortable life in the family
- 35 . What does the writer want to tell us with the story? _____
- A . The young should look after the old.
- B . Family members should have meals together.
- C . It's terribly wrong to serve meals in broken dishes.
- D . Parents should set a good example for their children.

B

I am Alice. My sister and I spent our last summer holidays with our uncle who is a geologist (地质学家) and loves to collect stones.

One day he bought us two backpacks and asked us to go to the mountain with him. We walked the whole day. Every now and then he put stones in our backpacks. To our surprise, he also took some stones out from them. But we thought he had just found better stones .

When we returned to the house, we were very tired. The backpacks were so heavy that we felt relief (轻松) when we took them off. Yet our uncle's backpack was half empty .

“Why did you give us so many stones?” we asked .

“I didn’t. You did.” he said. “You didn’t know it, but I gave you a little attitude (态度) test today. I listened to every word you said. Whenever you were complaining (抱怨), I added a stone to your backpacks. Whenever you talked about something with positive (积极的) thinking, I took out a stone. And now look at your backpacks.”

Our backpacks were full of stones .

“Your negative (消极的) thoughts are just like stones. You carry them in your mind just like those stones in your backpacks. The more negative thoughts you have, the heavier your mind will be.” said our uncle.

With great love, our uncle taught us one of the most important lessons in life—the power of the attitude.
